

MR. GOETZ'S BIG ROLL OF $25,000 LOSES ONLY $50

He Thought When His Coat Was Moved That
the Wad Was Gone.

BUT, JOY, IT WAS THERE!

Then the Gentlemen from Tacoma Left for the Imperial and Counted It Over.

Tacoma, Wash., capitalists carry their bankrolls in their overcoat pockets, and leave their overcoats in parlors of strange houses, if the experience of Herman Goetz, of Tacoma, is any criterion. Herman is the president of an asphalt paving concern out on the Pacific Coast and is on his way to Europe on a business trip.

Incidentally he appeared in Yorkville Police Court to-day with the most remarkable story of an experience in a "greening joint" that local detectives have ever heard. The astute Mr. Goetz averred that although his overcoat containing $25,000 in English money, was out of his sight in a house in Lexington avenue for hours, and was a different place from where he left it when he started to go, all that was missing was $50.

Mr. Goetz is a guest at the Imperial. He was taking dinner in the public restaurant Tuesday evening, when a stunning brunette approached him, extended her hand, hesitated and withdrew it.

"Excuse me," she said, shyly, "I thought you were a friend of mine from West."

Mr. Goetz wondered how she knew he was from West, but he didn't let on. Instead he asked her if he could not act as understudy for her friend, and he proved acceptable.

The young woman, who said she was Mary Delany, invited him to a room in Lexington avenue. Goetz carefully threw his overcoat on a sofa in the parlor and went into another room to look at Mary's photograph album. The pictures were so interesting that he did not set eyes on his overcoat again for several hours.

When he entered the parlor he noticed that the overcoat had been removed from the sofa to a chair. He leaped to it, dived his hand into the inside pocket, dragged out his wallet and opened it. The package of $25,000 was there, seemingly intact. Miss Delany convinced him that the overcoat had not been moved and he departed.

Think of it—$50 shy.

When he got to the hotel he counted his roll, slowly and carefully. It was $50 shy. He hid himself to the East Thirty-fifth Street Station and detectives arrested last night Mary Delany, Samuel Robinson and Harry Wilson, whom they found in the house with her. When Goetz learned in Yorkville Police Court today that if he preferred a charge against the prisoners he would have to remain in New York to prosecute he dropped the case because he had booked his passage on a ship that sails Saturday. In view of the fact that Goetz lost only $50 from his $25,000 roll, policemen, detectives and prisoners in the courtroom looked incredulously at the three accused as they filed out after their discharge.

"I hope they don't hear this in Tacoma," is Mr. Goetz's dearest wish.

JOY LINE BOAT BURNED AT PIER

Three Army Transports Were in Danger During South Brooklyn Fire.

The steamship Rosalie, of the Joy line, took fire early today as she lay moored at the foot of 3105-sixth street, South Brooklyn. Her crew all escaped in safety. The army transports, McClellan, Kilpatrick and Sumner, lay alongside of her and were in danger for a time. The McClellan lay closest to the fire, and streams of water were played on her sides and deck until the fire on the Joy line boat was under control.

John Vincent, a fireman, fell overboard. Capt. Patrick Meagher jumped into the water after him and held him up until rescuers came to their aid.

There were two calls for engines on the fire, which was extinguished after half an hour's fight. The loss was $10,000.

"MARRIED TO-NIGHT," WIRES EXPLORER ANTHONY FIALA.

Surprises Mother by Announcement that Miss Purvey, a Nashville School-Teacher, Has Become His Bride, and They Are on the Way to Washington.

Anthony Fiala, of Brooklyn, the Arctic explorer, was married last night to Miss Mary Claire Purvey, of Nashville, Tenn., and the couple are now on their way to Washington from the Southern city.

This news was confirmed to-day by the explorer's mother in the flat at No. 333 Cumberland street where Fiala has lived with his mother, sister and brother. Mrs. Fiala said she had received a telegram from the explorer last night asking her to send a trunk of his clothes to the Shoreham Hotel, Washington. The telegram ended: "Married to-night, Anthony."

The announcement was a surprise to the members of the family. His bride was a school teacher in Nashville, and moved in the best circles there. She is described as being very beautiful and highly educated. Anthony Fiala's marriage adds a touch of romance to an adventurous life. Explorer, writer, photographer, artist, lecturer and soldier have been the roles he played. He was born in Jersey City, but has lived in Brooklyn since the age of three. He was an artist when he enlisted with Troop C at the outbreak of the Spanish war and went to Porto Rico. He took many photographs there, and on returning lectured and wrote a book on the troops' part in the campaign. He was later elected lieutenant of the Fourteenth Regiment, N. G. N., and went with the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition as photographer, and after the break between Baldwin and the backing-powder magnate Fiala was selected to head the second expedition.

In the American, a steam winter, he left Trondheim, Norway, June 23, 1893, and three days later left Tromsø, the last board of him for two years. The America was crushed by ice early in the expedition, and Fiala and his men stranded in the ice. Two expeditions were sent after him, headed by William S. Champ, and Fiala's expedition was finally rescued in August of this year as a result of Millionaire Baldwin's diving instructions.

LOOK OUT WATCH BUYERS THE WAR IS ON

Do not buy a Waltham or Elgin Watch until you thoroughly investigate this advertisement.

Do you know that if you went direct to the Waltham Watch Company's Factory at Waltham, Mass., you could not buy a watch as cheap as the savage owner of a hut in the Congo Free State or a prosperous merchant in Cairo, Egypt, can buy at their own home, shipping expenses paid? Well, this is a fact. I have brought back from Europe thousands of Waltham and Elgin Watches at "EXPORT" prices, from the cheapest to the best, which I offer to you at prices less than any retail dealer in New York can buy them. You can take one to your own favorite jeweller; and if he does not bear me out in this statement we will refund the money. You get this in writing at the time of the purchase.

GUARANTEE.

These watches will
be sold with the distinct understanding that one can be taken to any Jeweller for examination, and if
it can be duplicated
for less than $20,
the money will be refunded.

$9.98

To-Day and Friday, Dec. 8th, we shall offer Seven Hundred of the new thin model Gents' 16 size Waltham and Elgin Watches in the genuine Keystone and Crescent gold-stiffened cases, guaranteed for 20 years, at $9.98 each; also a few Ladies' small naught size at the same price. We wish the public to understand that there is no humbug about this offer; read our guarantee carefully; it means just what it says; no more and no less. We are fighting for a principle, as well as selling watches. We bought these goods fair and square in Europe and paid the "European" price, and do not propose to have a Trust or anybody else tell us what we shall or shall not sell them for. We do not handle trash, as the price would indicate, but sell all kinds of watches, from $3.00 to $300.00, of America's best-known makers.

CUT PRICE LIST.

These Watches are all guaranteed brand new, just as they came from the factory. The prices are all under the market; for instance, the Riverside Maximus, 23 jewels, price $42.30. No Jeweller is allowed to sell this for less than $60, under penalty of being blacklisted by the Trust cutting off his supply. Ask some Jeweller and find out. All the other prices represent about the same percentage of saving. The prices in this list are for movements alone. On request we will submit prices on any sort of a case made. We do not sell movements without cases, or cases without movements. They are priced separately simply for the convenience of customers.

Waltham Maximus, 23 jewels, $42.30	Waltham, Riverside, 17 jewels, $16.40	Appleton, Tracy & Co., 17 jewels, $11.98
Waltham, 15 jewels, No. 820, 3.98	Waltham, Royal, 17 jewels, 10.98	Lady Waltham, 16 jewels, 9.98
Waltham, 17 jewels, No. 85, 4.78	Waltham, Vanguard, 23 jewels, 25.38	Riverside, 12 size, 17 jewels, 10.30
Waltham, Crescent, St. 19, 18.92	P. S. Bartlett, 17 jewels, 7.98	Waltham Maximus, 21 jewels, 39.98

THE CHRISTMAS PIANO.

Delivered at Your Home for $10.

The Balance on Monthly Payments of $6.

WE MAKE THESE EASY TERMS so that the hundreds to whom a new Piano would be the greatest delight that Christmas could bring may have the new instrument in time, even though the total cash payment would be inconvenient or an impossibility.

We insure, in addition, the certainty that you will become the owner of a Piano of high merit; a Piano with a record of years of public approval behind it; a Piano which is giving pleasure to-day in hundreds of Brooklyn homes. This is the fine

Heller Piano at $250, $275 and $3.00

We insure, in addition to this, the certainty that you will pay the lowest price which a piano of equal merit costs anywhere. The most careful comparison will show you that the asking prices for pianos as fine as the Heller instruments range from $350 to $450 and often are more.

Heller Pianos are fully warranted for ten years from the date of delivery. Our guarantee, in addition to that of the maker's, is back of every one we sell. In addition to the guarantee, WE TUNE FREE all Heller Pianos during the first year after they are sold.

The stock of these pianos ordered for this Christmas season is larger than we ever had before. But the demand is also passing all precedent, and if you would be sure of your piano for Christmas it will be well to come in now. Deliveries will be made at any date you wish.

The Pianola and Pianola Piano

are sold in Brooklyn through the Loeser Store. If you do not yet appreciate the wonders of the Metro-style Pianola—the little instrument which unlocks the door to enjoyment of practically all written music—come in and hear it to-morrow.

Fourth Floor.

Immense Stock of New Cut Glass

Third to Half Under Regular.

AT THE CHRISTMAS SEASON to have choice of an absolutely new and unusually beautiful stock of Cut Glass, with the privilege to buy it at a third to half under value—that is an offering such as even from Loeser's is remarkable.

There were forty great casks of this Cut Glass—the entire surplus from one of the best makers in the country, who sells to jewellers and high-grade stores all over the United States. Every piece was made for this season. Every piece was made in the regular way to sell at regular prices. These details:
